PG&E May Grant Right-of-Way

ORINDA SUN

VOL. VIII, NO. 35 — LAFAYETTE — ORINDA, CALIFORNIA — FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1950 — TEN CENTS

HERE'S WHERE THAT SHELTER for commuters waiting for buses will be erected, if tonight's big benefit dance, sponsored by the Orinda Chamber of Commerce, is successful. Armed with the plans for the structure, these men take a look-see at the site at the Crossroads, next to the Shell station. Left to right, they are E. J. Kuenzli of the postoffice, Wayne Littlejohn, architect, who drew the plans; Ernest Poll, a chamber director; President Bill Worden, Secretary-Treasurer Clarence Betz and Publicity Chairman Ramsay Underwood of the chamber. Tonight's benefit affair will be held in the new Orinda postoffice building.

East Bay M.U.D Says No Prospect For Immediate Sale of Orinda Lands

No immediate sale is in prospect for the East Bay Municipal Utility District land in the Orinda area, it was stated this week by Hart Eastman, assistant secretary of the district.

However, Eastman definitely declared that plans "for ultimate sale" to private parties include some 15 acres on the west side of San Pablo Creek Road between the Crossroads and the Village, as well as about 700 acres between the Crossroads and Charles Hill, on both sides of Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

Eastman, whose duties include being in charge of public relations for the utility district, said a recent request by E.B.M.U.D. to the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District regarding possible sanitary district annexation of seven of the 15 acres west of San Pablo Creek Road was a necessary step in this direction.

'ROUTINE INQUIRY'

According to E.B.M.U.D's land division, this request was not an application for sewer service, as has been reported, but "a routine inquiry" to the sanitary district board as to procedures which would be involved in annexation of the land by the sanitary district.

"It is essential to have such information because, naturally, future purchasers would have to know the score on installation of sewer service for the property," Eastman explained.

Stressing that there has as yet been no consummation of any moves for annexation by the sanitary district, Eastman stated:

"This section is included with other properties in the area planned for ultimate sale, including the much larger properties between the Crossroads and Charles Hill."

Only about seven acres of the 15 acres west of San Pablo Creek Road are considered usable, according to Eastman, because of power line rights-of-way across the land.

COMMERCIAL USE

At the sanitary district board meeting at which the E.B.M.U.D. letter was read, sanitary district officials discussed the property as potential commercial property or multiple family residential land.

This view is in line with the statement last summer by General Manager John W. McFarland of E.B.M.U.D. that the long-range plan is to sell some of the property from the Crossroads to Charles Hill for commercial use and some for residential use.

It also is in line with factors involved in the current snag in negotiations toward a high school site in Orinda. The Acalanes High School District and E.B.M.U.D. were unable to agree on price for some 30 acres of land at the northeast corner of the Crossroads. Because the front strip is along the highway and is therefore most valuable as future business sites, E.B.M.U.D.'s suggested figure was about $175,000, McFarland has stated.

However, the high school district indicated it was willing to pay around $70,000, according to McFarland.

McFarland has pointed out that E.B.M.U.D. indicated a willingness to sell for $70,000 if the high school district would agree to the front of the property being about 300 feet back from the highway.

STILL PENDING

Still pending are condemnation proceedings against the corner land filed last summer by the high school district.

Eastman stated this week that sale of the 700-acre area east of the Crossroads is delayed by the school-site snag and the resultant condemnation suit and by the necessity of further planning of parcels by the utility district.

Your Chance to Do Good Turn . . .

Just in case you weren't home when your phone rang with that "Invest in Orinda" signal, you can't say you're not being asked to join the Orinda Association.

As the 10-day membership drive started rolling, plans were for Crossroads booths this weekend and next, to be manned by Boy Scouts under direction of Mrs. F. R. Devin.

The scouts will be doing their good turn for you and the community — and you'll be doing YOUR good turn for yourself, your family and Orinda by joining.

County Stays With Demos, Except In Governor Race

Governor Earl Warren cracked Contra Costa County's traditionally Democrat stronghold to beat James Roosevelt by over 13,000 votes.

Weatherman Says No Rain – Just Sun

Weatherman says "no rain" this past week. That's all right with us, we didn't vote for damp weather anyway. Oh, yes, we voted — did you?

This is subversive weather. Honestly, our iron curtains are rusted to a frazzle, what with rain and sun.

Maximum temperature for the week from November 1 through November 7th was the 81 degrees on the second.

Richard Heads Highlands Group

At a meeting of Orinda Highlands Association held recently, Edmund Richard, Jr., was elected president and Mrs. Jack Lee was chosen secretary.

The meeting, held October 26, was at the Baptist Lodge on El Rincon.

Plans for a potluck dinner and a folk dance November 29, to be held at the Baptist Lodge, were discussed.

A progress report was made by M. W. Loveland, newly elected secretary-treasurer and outgoing president, on repairs to El Toyonal's upper stretch and hoped-for early restoration of school bus service there.

funds were voted for design and installation of road markers.

Others elected to office include Jack Lee, vice-president, and Frank Brush, C. E. Cook and John McKee, directors.

Tonight Is Fun Dance at New Post Office Bldg.

Want to have a good time tonight? Don't forget there's a full schedule of fun promised at the Orinda Chamber of Commerce community benefit shindig at the new postoffice this evening at 9.

Tickets are still available at your local stores, or at the door of the postoffice. Residents who have forgotten to mail in checks to help in the benefit plan to supply a shelter for persons waiting at the Crossroads bus stop are urged to do so in order to share in the community venture.

SPECIAL PROGRAM

There'll be a program of music by well-known local maestros, a special feature dance program, dancing for all those who attend and refreshments to top off an enjoyable evening.

Godfrey Bender of Orinda Bakery has cooperated in supplying the doughnuts and Kelly of Kelly's Kitchen is arranging for the coffee. Even the local school has chipped in by lending a piano for the evenings's entertainment program.

DECORATIONS

Decorating of the postoffice quarters for the occasion has been done through the cooperation of local merchants.

Back your Orinda Chamber of Commerce in their benefit affair planned for community betterment. Attend the dance tonight!

Posters to Push Orinda Campaign

School days were poster days for the sixth, seventh and eighth grade students at Orinda and Glorietta Schools this week.

And the posters were of special significance for both the youngsters and their parents — they portrayed the Orinda Association's membership drive, which got underway last night and which will continue all through next week.

Showing the seriousness with which the younger generation views the efforts of grownups for an ever-improving community, selected posters are expected to go on display in Orinda stores by the end of this week, according to Mrs. Helen Vurek, general chairman of the membership drive.

Execution of the posters has been performed in a contest made possible by the cooperation of school authorities. Two groups of prizes will be awarded, one group for each school. First, second and third prizes will be awarded for each group.

The Orinda Children's Art Association, of which Mrs. N. S. Dodge is chairman, has furnished judges for the contest. These judges are Mesdames Dan Carter, Stewart Henderson, Charles McDermott, Kirk Miles and Jack Buchter.

Republicans Sweep in Orinda

Big Advance in G.O.P. Strength Since Primary

Unofficial tally of the Orinda vote in Tuesday's general election showed the community to be even stronger in the Republican column than it was at the June 6 primary election.

This upswing in the G.O.P. percentage was graphically demonstrated in the vote for assemblyman.

SWITCH FROM CONDON

Robert L. Condon, Democrat and incumbent, who was reelected, received only 464 votes in Orinda's 10 precincts, while his Republican opponent, Leo Armstrong, received 1,557.

Republican ballots here in the primary gave Condon 591 votes as against 467 for Armstrong. The Democratic ballots in the primary tallied 215 for Condon, 67 for Armstrong.

HEAVY WARREN VOTE

In the gubernatorial election, Governor Earl Warren, Republican (reelected) received 1,980 Orinda votes, while James Roosevelt, Democrat, received only 146.

For attorney general of California, the defeated Edward S. Shattuck, Republican, received 1,646 votes from Orindans, while the victorious Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, Democrat, received 417.

Orindans gave 1,811 votes to Richard Nixon, Republican (elected), for U. S. senator. His Democratic opponent, Helen Gahagan Douglas, was given only 25 votes from this community.

PROPOSITIONS

In the vote on state propositions the Orinda vote, with a couple of exceptions, was in line with the statewide and countywide results. The Orinda returns were as follows:

Chamber Plans Christmas Banner

The noon meeting of Orinda Chamber of Commerce November 2 was devoted to final arrangements for the benefit community dance scheduled for tonight, placing of the Christmas banner across the highway leading from the Crossroads to the Village before the holidays and discussion of groundwork on future highway improvement and development in the area.

THIS WE MUST HEAR, says the trio standing behind Mrs. Lloyd Farrar as Mrs. Farrar prepares to phone an Orinda family (maybe yours) with a request to join the Orinda Association. Ready to jot down every precious syllable is Bob Clough (at left), chairman of the association's Civic Affairs Committee and co-chairman of the membership drive's telephone committee. Community Progress Report Told to Orindans at 'Town Meeting' at School

Orindans last night heard a comprehensive report on the state of the community.

Past, present and future problems, efforts and solutions formed the theme of discussions by speakers at the Orinda Association's "town meeting" at Orinda Grammar School auditorium.

ROLE OF ASSOCIATION

Role of the Orinda Association in battling for the community's needs was emphasized at this "kickoff" rally for the intensive 10-day membership drive of the association, being conducted by its Civic Affairs Committee.

After the impetus of last night's meeting, telephones will really start ringing today as Orinda families are urged to join the Orinda Association for the period ending December 31, 1951, at $2 per family.

The meeting occurred after this issue of the SUN went to press. With President Marvin Bonds of the association to preside over the rally, the scheduled highlight was a talk on civilian defense and disaster relief by Brigadier General Bradford G. Chynoweth, retired.

Chynowith, recognized as an outstanding authority on the subject and until recently Alameda County's civilian defense director, was to deal with the problem in its area, state and federal aspects, according to Bonds.

Chynoweth resigned the Alameda County post because he felt there was too much "politics" in the setup.

CONNECTING STREET

Another high point of the meeting was expected to be the remarks of President Bonds. Prior to the gathering Bonds stated he expected to report on latest developments in efforts toward construction of a one-block street back of Sprouse-Reitz Company and Orinda Hardware, connecting Camino Encinas and Golden Gate Road. (See separate story.)

Other speakers scheduled for last night were:

Clarence Fleager, on his grade separation proposal, involving a "clover leaf" arrangement for the Crossroads area.

Stanley Allen, on parking and sidewalk setbacks on Moraga Highway.

Dr. Ralph Hall of the Acalanes High School Board, on latest developments in the high school district's quest for a high school site in Orinda.

A member of the Board of Fire Commissioners, Orinda Fire Protection District, on the $130,000 fire bond election November 21.

'KEYNOTE' FOR DRIVE

Bob Clough, chairman of the Civic Affairs Committee, was to sound the "keynote" for the membership drive.

Coordinating chairman for the meeting was Horace Breed.

An official of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce was scheduled to tell the audience about tonight's chamber-sponsored community dance at the new Orinda postoffice building. Proceeds of this affair will go for construction of a commuters' bus shelter at the Crossroads.

Breed Goes on Naval Training

Horace Breed of 80 Camino Encinas left on Monday for two weeks' Naval training at San Francisco Naval Shipyard, Hunters Point.

The training is part of Breed's activities as a member of U. S. Naval Reserve Composite Unit 12-25. Breed is a lieutenant-commander in the Naval Reserve.

Your Phone Will Ring—It's For Good Reason, Too

Orinda telephones will start ringing in earnest this morning and will continue to do so for the next 10 days.

To every Orinda family will go the message: Invest in Orinda, your family's future, by joining the Orinda Association!

Under direction of Co-Chairmen Bob Clough and Harold Rote of the telephone committee of the association's Civic Affairs Committee, a corps of hard-working women volunteers will be the "telephone brigade."

These women will urge each family to join the association, at $2 per family, for the period ending December 31, 1951.

MAP PLANS

Final plans for the phones-are-ringing campaign were mapped at a meeting of the telephone committee Monday night at Orinda Grammar School.

Suggestions on how to convey the association's message over the phone were given by Mrs. Eleanor Silverman, who read a prepared "telephone talk."

Present were Mrs. Martha Chantler, secretary-treasurer of the Orinda Association; Mrs. Helen Vurek, general chairman of the membership drive; Co-Chairmen Clough and Rote of the telephone committee and the following members of the "telephone brigade":

Mesdames Lloyd Farrar, Roy Stuart, Dan Peacock, Kenneth Brown, Robert Harrison, Wayne Littlejohn and Ted Sanford.

Others who will be busy phoning people are Mesdames Robert Diehl, Edgar Stewart, James Hupp, R. A. Stark, A. Doty, M. Bouhier and Zach Montgomery.

More telephoners are needed for the membership drive, according to Mrs. Vurek. She urged that anyone able to help in this way get in touch promptly with Clough or Rote.

Girl Scout Cookie Drive Starts Mon.

Cookie jars will be filled for busy Orinda housewives next week when the annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale gets under way.

The sale, beginning Monday will be under the direction of Mrs. Chris E. Olsen. Assisting will be Mesdames R. P. Rasmussen, Fred N. Twining, R. F. Tharp, B. P. Olsen, Robert Elder, Fred H. Kronke, R. S. Wiseman, John Gompertz, Mel W. Nickerson, Henry M. Jamison, L. B. Boyer, Lewis B. Ambler, Warren J. Pollock and William Tildsley.

This event always creates much interest with each Girl Scout and Brownie taking an active part.

Seek Additional Turn-around at Crossroads Area

Pacific Gas and Electric Company is "agreeable" to further discussion on possible use of its land behind Orinda Hardware and Sprouse-Reitz Company as a one-block street, according to President Marvin Bonds of the Orinda Association.

But the "hitch" so far is the question of liability if the high-tension wires over the area should fall and result in injury, he said.

Bonds said earlier this week that he expected to report on this situation at last night's "town meeting" of the Orinda Association at Orinda Grammar School auditorium.

Pointing out that the street, if constructed, would connect Camino Encinas and Golden Gate Road, Bonds said:

"I'll probably announce at the meeting the status of negotiations with Pacific Gas and Electric Company, which owns that strip of land.

PG&E 'AGREEABLE' BUT—

"I've talked with P.G.&E., and they're agreeable to further discussions. However, P.G.&E. has made no decision yet and won't commit itself because of the question of liability in case the high-tension wires over the area fall and cause injury.

"We're taking this problem up with the county, so that the district attorney can give an opinion as to where the liability would be.

PAVING?

"Another question about this proposed street is: Can the county pave it if P.G.&E. lets us use the area? P.G.&E. definitely states it won't do any paving there.

"Such a road is necessary to enable motorists driving south on Moraga Highway to turn back to the Crossroads without making a U-turn. This block-long connecting street west of Moraga Highway would be an answer to an acute problem."

New Evening Bus But More Users; Arrange Confab

Addition of one morning and one evening Greyhound bus to regular commute schedules between this area and San Francisco during the past 10 days still fails to meet present needs, it was charged this week by the Contra Costa County Commuters Association.

The complaint was made by Arthur Bowman of Orinda, chairman of an association committee which is pressing for improved service.

Latest additional bus, placed in regular operation this Wednesday, is one leaving San Francisco at 5:38 p.m., on the run to Concord. For the previous week, according to John McKirahan, association secretary, an extra bus was provided running at the same approximate time, but it was not placed on regular schedule until Wednesday.

On November 1 an additional morning bus, on the Concord-to-San Francisco run, was placed in regular operation.

Bowman explained that the additional buses, while at first relieving the peak commuter traffic, soon became inadequate because new bus users quickly started taking advantage of the increased service.

COMPLAINTS GROWING

Declaring that complaints are growing and that the Commuters Association will have to demand more and more service, Bowman is arranging for a conference with the transportation department staff of the State Public Utilities Commission.

It is hoped that the meeting between association officials and P.U.C. representatives, at the commission offices in San Francisco, will be held in the next few days, according to Bowman.

Such a conference was suggested by the P.U.C. recently, in response to a letter signed by President Aubrey Macomber of the Commuters Association. Detailing commuters' grievances, the letter had been drawn up by Bowman and his committee prior to the recent bus additions to the commute schedule.

Macomber received a reply November 3, in which the P.U.C. pointed to improvements being made but acknowledging that the Commuters Association had listed a large number of points. In this reply the P.U.C. suggested that association officials arrange to meet with the commission's transportation department staff, so that points raised could be discussed.

How Much Would Orinda City Council Cost?

If Orinda were incorporated, it would, of course, be governed by a city council.

How much this self-government would cost is debated every time the word "incorporation" is mentioned. How much would be required to run a city council is another interesting conjecture.

But, in any event, there is no question it would be more, much more, than $2. per year per family.

This brings us to the point of this article: The Orinda Association is Orinda's city council. And it costs only $2. per year per family — based on voluntary membership.

Orinda's "city council" is not an official, governmental body, as we all know. It does not levy taxes, or pass ordinances, or administer a city government. (Unincorporated Orinda is governed by the various boards and officials of Contra Costa County and local districts.)

It is, however, amazing how much "official type" of work passes before the members of the Civic Affairs Committee, which in turn drafts recommendations to the Board of Directors of the Orinda Association.

It is equally amazing how the Orinda Association is able to get results. These "results" affect all Orindans.

Almost every important "problem" that faces Orinda comes before the Orinda Association — zoning, roads, police protection, traffic and parking, signals, schools, bond issues, disaster mobilization, sewers, street signs, speed limits, pedestrian zones, communications, transportation, utilities, charities, community center, and on and on.

Whether the problem is dumping of unsightly garbage or need for stop signs or improvement of roads or traffic congestion at the Crossroads, the Orinda Association is on the job.

Officers of the Association are the first to point out that sometimes it requires weeks or months and many letters and phone calls before results are obtained. This is discouraging to these community-minded men and women who devote this time without compensation or reward, other than knowing that a job is being done.

The reason for delays is simply that the Association can only recommend that action be taken — and carry these suggestions to the State Highway Division, the county road commissioner, the sheriff, the board of supervisors, the Sanitary District, or to the utility and other private corporations serving Orinda.

Despite this, the Association's minutes reveal many major and minor accomplishments — all of which make Orinda a better place to live.

Now, what can we do to help?

1. Most important at the moment: sign your family as members of the Association for next year at $2. You will be contacted during the current membership drive which lasts to November 19.

2. Make sure that a representative of your neighborhood improvement club and representative of your other organizations attend the Civic Affairs Committee meeting (third Monday of every month, Orinda School, 7:45 p.m.).

3. Offer your assistance for the membership drive or other comunity activities.

Let's keep in mind the slogan of the membership drive: "Invest in Orinda."

Widow of Sewer Worker Who Was Killed on Job Is Awarded $9,400

Mrs. Henry McHenry, widow of a worker who was killed in an Orinda sewer construction job over a year ago, has been awarded compensation totaling $9,400, according to Attorney Frederick Bold, Jr., of Richmond.

The court, Bold reported, found the Underground Construction Company guilty of "serious and willful misconduct" in not buttressing the sewer excavation with supporting frames. The firm did the installation work for the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District.

McHenry's fatal accident occurred October 13, 1949.

The widow received $400 for burial expenses, $6,000 for state compensation death benefits and $3,040 from her late husband's employer.

Mrs. McHenry was represented by the Richmond and Martinez law firm of Carlson, Collins, Gordon and Bold.

What's Cookin'—It's Mexican Beans

"What's Cookin',"

Mmmm . . . with that aroma coming from Mrs. John Manner's kitchen, our guess is Mexican Beans.

MEXICAN BEANS

Liz Manners is one of the 240 contributors to "What's Cookin'," the Lafayette PTA cook book everyone's talking about. She says these Mexican Beans are her husband's favorite, and they're oh, so good "after the game." Best of all, they are so easy to fix! And Liz informs us this dish has become a "must" at her New Year's parties.

We know you'll be anxious to try this recipe, as have many who've found it in "What's Cookin'." Here 'tis:

HERE'S HOW

Fry five slices of bacon with two onions; add two cans of tomatoes drained) and two cans of red kidney beans (drained). Season with three tablespoons curry (dissolved on hot water), three tablespoons of molasses, and salt. Bake at 300 degrees for one hour.

By the way, these are excellent cooked the day before and warmed over.

You can get your copy of "What's Cookin'" at Hinkson's Bakery and Emma Lee's Knit Shop, so be sure to pick up yours next time you're in.

If you can't wait that long to get a peek at the remaining 239 mouth-watering recipes, just call Katy Tussing at Laf. 2485 or any one of her committee, namely, Mrs. D. D. Johnson, Mrs. Don Kesselring, Mrs. H. A. Hurt, Mrs. Clark Rucker and Mrs. Robert Spragens.

Act to Form Historical Society

Steps have been initiated by the history and landmarks committee of the Contra Costa County Development Association for the formation of a Contra Costa County Historical Society to assume and extend committee activities with a permanent group.

Justice A. F. Bray, committee chairman, has appointed Louis F. Stein of Kensington Park to invite Aubrey Drury, secretary of the California Historical Society, to attend a meeting of interested Contra Costans and advise them on required steps. Notification of the meeting date will be sent interested persons.

The committee has arranged a Friday, November 17 meeting, and, if possible, Drury will be sought for that meeting.

Judge Bray has also appointed Architect Fred Confer of Martinez to meet with directors of the Contra Costa Horsemen's Association and the Art and Garden Club to determine whether they have available space for permanent Contra Costa exhibits.

The horsemen's association has responsibility of care for the Pacheco adobe at Concord, owned by the county, and it was suggested it might be an excellent place for the preservation of Contra Costa relics and documents.

Obtaining the information on committee request, Judge Bray reported that the owners of the John Muir home in Alhambra Valley have placed a price of $40,000 on the property. There has been suggestion that the residence be acquired as a shrine in honor of the internationally known Alhambra Valley naturalist.

Accident Severs Worker's Fingers

While working on repair of one of the bad spots on El Toyonal in Orinda recently, Clarence Smith, 27, of Oakland, lost the fingers of both hands in a tractor accident.

Smith, employed by the McCosker Company of Berkeley, was operating a loader-tractor in the El Toyonal hills when the power cable became twisted, according to Dr. Carl Wellington Smith, who treated him.

GRABS CABLE

As he took hold of the cable to loosen it, the cable wound tighter around his hands. Dr. Smith reported he lost all fingers except his thumbs—down to half of the first joint on the right hand and between the two joints on the left hand.

The accident occurred October 19. Clarence Smith was given first aid at the Orinda fire station, where, according to Chief H. E. Wyatt, tourniquets were applied to stop the bleeding. From there he was taken to Dr. Smith's office on Orinda Highway.

Dr. Smith reported last week that the patient was at Peralta Hospital, Oakland, and that his general condition was very good although he would not have much future use of his hands.

Clarence Smith, who is married and has three children, recently made a down payment on a house near Walnut Creek, the doctor said. The day before the accident, according to the physician, the worker's wife had given birth to their third child, a girl.

Counselors Hear Dr. L. Susselman

Dr. L. Susselman from the staff of the Langley Porter Psychiatric Clinic of the University of California Hospital of San Francisco, recently held a conference with Acalanes high school counselors.

The group discussed the problem of, "involving youngsters into the total school program."

Dr. Susselman is also a consulting psychiatrist with the county department of education. Dr. Susselman advised the Acalanes counselors that the problem of involvement of students in the total school curriculum, "depends on the interests of the youngster and his parents."

The group also discussed the problem of adjusting students with particular health and mental problems to school life. The Acalanes counseling department is headed by Lee Russell.

WATCH THAT LIGHT

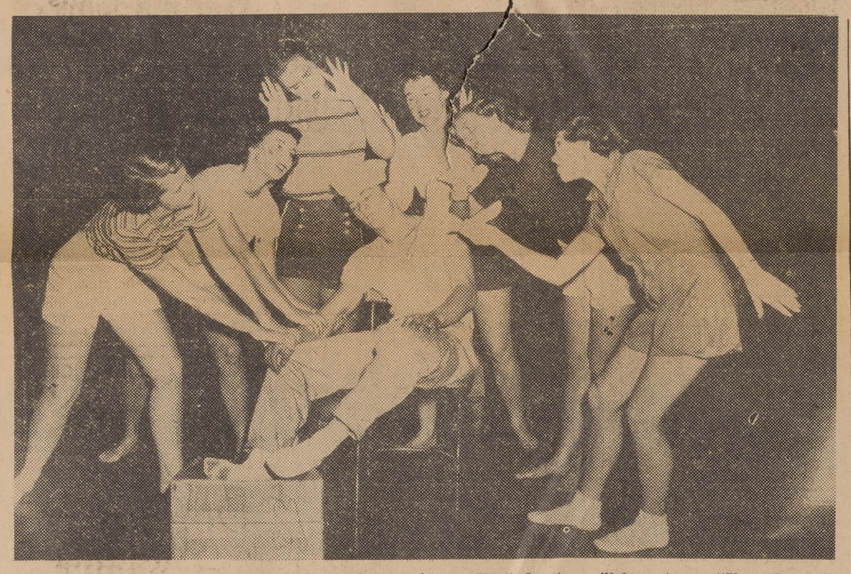

If the dash instrument that keeps you informed of the generator's functioning happens to be a jewel light arrangement, keep an eye on the condition of the bulb. It should burn always during the starting process. If it does not, have the bulb replaced to avoid the more expensive job of a battery recharging, which might be necessary if the warning device were not working.

Local Babysitters Featured in Trib

Featured in last Sunday's Parade Section of the Oakland Tribune was Mrs. Catherine Humphrey of Old Tunnel Road.

The article, in which pictures of Mrs. Humphrey appeared, was a special story about baby-sitters and their problems. Mrs. Humphrey who is well-known in Lafayette has been baby-sitting for local children for the past 10 years.

Also pictured in the feature section were several Orinda baby-sitters of high school age. Among the girls mentioned were Linda Pyle, Anne Summers, Daryl Broderick and Carolyn Demter.

'Shore Leave' Cast Numbers Over 200

Tickets for the Acalanes all-student variety show "Shore Leave," slated for the Acalanes gym next Friday and Saturday, are on sale now. Prices are $1.00 for adults and 75c for students.

Student body president Don Cvietusa announced that tickets will be sold at Reilly's Music Co., and Diablo Drug Store in Walnut Creek; Campana Music Co., Lafayette Dime and Dollar, and Kiddietown in Lafayette; and the Orinda Village Store and Orinda Pharmcay in Orinda.

LARGE CAST

A cast of 200 students and a large number of faculty members have been working on script, sets and music for the production. Miss Millicent Hamburger, Miss Margaret Mahler and Mr. Richard Nesbitt are faculty members in charge of the production.

More than 200 students are involved in staging the program which centers around the theme of a group of Navy sailors and WAVES on leave in the various ports of the world.

According to student officers the production will be the largest entertainment affair ever attempted by the school.

HOPE FOR SUPPORT

"We hope residents of the communities within the school district turn out for the program," students president Cvietusa stated. "We promise them an interesting evening's entertainment."

If public reception of the program is good school officials hope to make the project an annual affair. According to Superintendent Neil M. Parsons, "Programs such as this afford many students an opportunity to develop their interests and receive recognition for their accomplishments."

Meeting Tonight To Discuss Road Needs of County

Continuing its protracted study of Contra Costa highway requirements, the highways committee of the Contra Costa County Development Association will meet in Martinez tonight to pursue its outline of recommendations upon a roads program.

Committee chairman Joseph L. Judson of Pittsburg said that it is likely the committee will discuss the most recently advanced proposal for a second trans-bay crossing after hearing reports on a recent San Francisco meeting by Robert B. Claxton of Crockett and Ted Schreiber of Walnut Creek, association representatives at the meeting.

Tonight's meeting, Judson said, will also have discussion on many reports submitted to the committee on desires and requirements for highways expressed by communities of the county and by many organizations.

"There is some indication that a countywide bond election will be called," Judson said.

"This committee is faced with completion of its survey and recommendations and we have hope that we can finish it early in January. It is our intent to submit maps to the supervisors, as well as a complete report of the meetings and surveys the committee has made."

USE SPARINGLY

If your automobile is used only for occasional short runs, be sparing in use of electrical accessories, such as radio and heater. Short trips may not allow the generator to operate long enough to properly charge the battery. In some instances, an occasional battery charge at a service station may be necessary.

Guernsey Ford Again Head of Art Association

The painstaking efforts of Guernsey Ford were rewarded at the recent meeting of the Diablo Art Association when Ford was unanimously reelected president for this coming year.

Vice-president will be Flora Hook; executive-secretary, Eleanor Condon; secretary-treasurer, Doris Trahan; membership chairman, Janice Heitz; program chairman, Ben Davis; publicity chairman, Lillian Lytle.

Included on the agenda of the meeting was the new program for the ceramics group. Increased attendance has enlarged the group to the extent of additionay workshop meetings to be held every Monday evening at Eleanor Condon's studio in Saranap.

Previous bi-monthly activities in this group were founded on demonstrations, discussions and instruction by Mrs. Condon.

Sylvia Fein, art instructor at Acalanes, reported the recent trip to the art galleries with her group, stimulating controversy on non-objective art.

The pep talk by Donne Puckle, chairman of the painters' group, should kindle the fire for the art enthusiasts, encourage a larger turnout for the painting section on field trips and painting meetings. Plans are for a completely new and interesting program, with additional instruction and demonstrations.

In a search for basic impulsive expressions and experiments, Mrs. Peter Howard, speaker at the last meeting, arrived at a successful development of the art of children.

Mrs. Howard explained their difficulty in being a child and trying to express themselves; the forming of a standard between good and bad art: the growth from unorganized scribble of no particular color to the outline of the intentional figure.

The development of the children of the Jack and Jill Nursery School was displayed to great advantage by a special scroll, recently exhibited at the art show of the Walnut Festival.

Martinez Merry-Go-Round

Teachers' Summer Classes Approved—Ask Public Auction for Highway Needs

Charles Haworth of Pittsburg, president of the County Board of Education, announces that the board has approved Contra Costa's first summer session for teachers, to be conducted by San Francisco State College in 1951.

Classes will be held for six weeks at Mt. Diablo High School in Concord, with Jerry Disque of the College staff as director. Courses to be offered will be based an a questionnaire which will be circulated among teachers this month.

CONVENIENT LOCATION

By conducting summer sessions away from its campus, as has been done for several years in other localities, San Francisco State is able to provide teachers uncrowded classrooms and a more convenient location.

Teachers will also benefit from the opportunity to advance their professional status.

Mt. Diablo Unified District is cooperating with the staff of County Superintendent B. O. Wilson in planning the summer session. Dates and other details will be announced later.

HIGHWAY PROBLEMS

Contra Costa's Board of Supervisors wants fullest support of public organizations and citizenry in problems that are faced in meeting the county's highway requirements.

This fact stood highly impressed this week following a meeting of the officials and members of the highway committee of the Contra Costa County Development Association at an extended luncheon meeting in Martinez last week.

ADVISORY GROUP

These developments featured the meeting:

1. Statement by Board Chairman H. L. Cummings that the supervisors accept the Development Association as an advisory group that will submit recommendations to the officials.

2. Approval of a more adequate roads program for the county.

3. Board approval of a proposal for a county reresentative to attend all meetings of the California Highway Commission. The Development Association was to submit to the supervisors a recommendation that Attorney Joseph L. Judson of Pittsburg, chairman of the association's highway committee, be appointed the county highway representative.

BOND ISSUE?

4. Study of factors involved in submission of a highways bond issue to the people.

Much interest centered in the appointment of a highways representative at commission meetings, which was enhanced by a reiterated announcement by City Engineer Edward Hoffman of Richmond that Richmond intends to have its city manager, Wayne Thompson, and Hoffman attend all commission meetings as community observers and advisors.

TO MAKE REPORT

Judson informed the supervisors that the association committee has concluded eight highway investigation meetings and is now engaged in summarizing its findings for a report on recommendations.

Attending the meeting were Supervisors H. L. Cummings, S. S. Ripley, Ray S. Taylor and Jake Frederickson, County Engineer Joseph Barkley and committee members City Engineer Edward A. Hoffman of Richmond, City Administrator Leonard McClintock of Martinez, former County Engineer Ralph R. Arnold, Verne Andreason of San Ramon, Captain A. G. Sandford of Lafayette, M. L. Gillogly of Alamo, George Weise of Martinez, Harvey Lyon of Oakland, Association Manager Iona M. Booth and Judson.

TO PLAN EAST CAMPUS

Picked from a field of 30, Jack Buchter of Orinda, Frederick Confer of Pleasant Hill and John C. Warnecke of Oakland have been named by Contra Costa Junior College trustees to plan buildings and grounds for the college's East Campus.

The plans will be for the recently acquired 100-acre site near Pacheco, which will be used for the permanent East Campus location and which the trustees hope will be ready for use by the start of the 1951-52 term.

Buchter has been authorized by the trustees to prepare preliminary sketches on landscaping and location of buildings.

He has also been directed to prepare plans and specifications for installation of 11 war surplus buildings as temporary structures on the new East Campus. Recently obtained from the government, these buildings are in storage at the West Campus in Richmond. They will provide laboratory facilities, trades buildings, showers, etc.

Superintendent Drummond J. McCunn and Architects Buchter, Confer and Warnecke constitute a committee for review of all landscaping and construction plans.

The present, temporary East Campus is on Alhambra Avenue in Martinez, on city-owned property.

Architect Panel Named by J.C.

The Federal Government has approved an appropriation to the Contra Costa Junior College District for architectural services, Superintendent Drummond J. McCunn told the Board of Trustees at a meeting in Martinez.

A panel of architects was selected by the board at the meeting, so that immediate planning of the permanent East Campus can begin. Named to the panel were, Jack Buchter, Orinda, Frederick L. Confer, Martinez, and John C. Warnecke, Oakland.

McCunn said that the naming of the architects gives the district the opportunity to plan buildings, some of which may not be built for five or ten years, on the East Campus site.

"We will be able to study the educational needs and plan the buildings accordingly without the pressure of time," said McCunn.

Board member George Gordon, Martinez, stated that the Board has spent six months surveying the abilities of over 30 architects before selecting the panel.

Sister Visits Mrs. Dietrick

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Channell of Quincy, Mass., were visiting with Mrs. Channell's sister, Mrs. Wilson Dietrick, in Glenside last week, before Mr. Channell flew home.

Mrs. Channel stayed on with the Dietricks for a short visit and then went to her daughter, Mrs. Champ Creuse in San Jose, for a visit.

She has, however, promised to return to Lafayette and visit her sister before she, too, returns east.

Will Indians Scalp Our Dons Tonight?

John Swett of Crockett invades Acalanes Field tonight in an attempt to register its second league win.

Last week the sugar city lads walloped Alhambra's Bulldogs 44-0 and looked mighty impressive in doing it.

The Dons were just the reverse in losing to the Antioch contingent.

SWETT FAVORED

John Swett is favored on the basis of records to date, and the Dons will have to pull out all stops if they are to upset the dope bucket.

Crockett has outstanding backs in Brian Harrah, Perry Derris, Archie Onilling, Murio De Ra and Monte McWhorter.

The line is heavy and rugged, with several players over the 200 mark.

ONLY ONE SCALPING

Records show that the Indians have scalped the Dons but once in the past 10 years.

It could be that the Dons will finally put a good game together. If they do the hopes of John Swett could well be shattered.

HEAVY DUTY

Al Culp and Eric Murray are slated for heavy duty in view of their excellent showing against Antioch last week.

Game time is set for 8 p.m., when the referee will toot his whistle for the opening kickoff.

Next game will be against Alhambra at Martinez on Monday night, November 20. The game was postponed earlier due to rain.

Patronize Hometown Merchants.

SPORTS

Dons Clawed by Panthers, 38 to 13

The Acalanes Dons met a Panther eleven from Antioch last Friday night and when it was all over the Dons had been clawed and battered to a 38-13 score.

Jimmp Dossey proved, as expected, to be the ace of the Antioch team as he ran, passed and kicked his way to victory.

The Dons had a few bright moments when little but mighty Al Culp raced over from six yards out on an end run and again when Eric Murray raced 35 yards up the middle for a touchdown.

The story was told in the line. Antioch's forward wall played its best game of the year.

Don Babes Outplay Antioch JV's, 8-0

Acalanes' Junior Varsity registered its second win of the season last week when it outplayed Antioch's Junior Varsity to win 8-0.

The Don Babes were superior all the way and scored their touchdown when Ray Williamson boomed over from the fullback spot four yards out.

Later in the game an Antioch back was trapped in the end zone and as a result the Dons chalked up two points on a safety.

The Don J.V. team met up with Crockett at the sugar city yesterday, but scores were unavailable at press time.

SPORTSMEN'S BOOKLET

California sportsmen interested in receiving a copy of the 250-page report of the Wildlife Conservation Board have been given a green light by Chairman Harvey E. Hastain.

The illustrated report was prepared earlier this year by Board Consultant Seth Gordon. It covers observations and recommendations made by experts in many phases of the State's hunting and fishing problems.

Free copies are available by written request to the Board's Ferry Building office in San Francisco.

Ol' Soss Has Misgivings But Still Predicts

By COACH ERWIN MATTSON

Here goes nothing and it's with misgivings that I pick Cal to topple U.C.L.A.

Just hope that I don't jinx them!

SOME REASON!

My best bet is Cal, however, as my good friend Jack Hageman picks U.C.L.A. — and he hasn't been right all season long.

Washington roars back and Oregon goes down. Stanford wins, with Washington State putting up a better than expected battle.

PICKS OREGON STATE

Oregon State over Idaho while U.S.C. takes a rest and prepares for U.C.L.A. next week.

San Jose is getting better as the season goes along, and St. Mary's has more than it can handle.

SANTA CLARA UPSET?

Santa Clara surprises and U.S.F. disappoints.

College of the Pacific rolls on and Cincinnati finds out the hard way.

Loyola proves to be a better than average club once again at Fresno State's expense.

Pomona (where's that!) over Whittier and Cal Tech over La Verne. I like the Cal part of that name!

In the high school league it's Pittsburg over Alhambra, Antioch in an upset over Diablo and Acalanes in an upset over John Swett, believe it or not!

TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS INCREASE

Traffic accidents in the rural areas of California showed an increase during the first eight months of 1950 when compared with the similar period in 1949, according to the National Automobile Club.

During the first eight months of this year there were 15,989 reportable accidents, 25,080 persons injured, and 1,261 persons killed, while during the same period in 1949 there were 14,789 reportable accidents, 23,432 persons injured, and 1,219 persons killed. This represents an increase of 8.11 per cent, 7.73 per cent, and 3.44 per cent respectively.

FROM THE SIDELINES

By Coach Erwin Mattson

Size Isn't Everything on Gridiron— 'Little Man's' Power Can Be Surprise

By COACH ERWIN MATTSON

MUCH HAS BEEN WRITTEN regarding size of football players. However, Sam Bombiani of St. Mary's showed what a 143 pounder can do with the proper attitude.

Sam has developed a habit of making some long runs, two of which were against Cal.

One was better than 90 yards through the Cal regulars only to be called back on a penalty play.

Sam has that rare ability to roll with a tackle and never gives a tackler a set shot at him.

In the U.S.F. game he made a punt return go all the way for a T.D.

METZER of Notre Dame was another of great fame.

He was all the more remarkable in that he played guard and did a good enough job to make All-American!

A good little man can make up for a whole lot with a big heart and plenty of determination.

There is always a place on the team for one who possesses the right prerequisites, and it isn't size that is all-important.

IT IS DEFINITELY apparent that the football fans are not tired of the game. Best illustration is that Army-Stanford tickets are difficult if not impossible to get.

It is already apparent that Stanford is not going anywhere except Palo Alto on New Year's Day, yet it appears that next week's game with Army will play before a full house.

Football fans all want a look at Army, which rates the No. 1 spot in the national poll.

COULD BE that Stanford could have a good day and Army hit a down draft which could result in an upset.

That's what happened not so many years ago and fans haven't forgotten.

Upsets are the order of the season and, after all, that's what gives any game public appeal.

Basketball practice gets underway at Acalanes next Monday, when better than 100 candidates report for tryouts.

Complications arise in that football has a week to go, due to the games postponed because of rain.

Football players will be laid off on Monday and Tuesday and will report back to practice the last three days of the school week.

Heavy drill will be minimized, with emphasis on timing and team play.

The past season has been a rough one in many respects, but many green hands have "learned the ropes" the hard way.

The fact remains that most of the squad will return next year to form a team of veterans.

A Yarn About Towels

How long a bathtowel lasts depends largely on the construction of the background, says Home Advisor Mary Ryon Lerche, of the University of California Agricultural Extension Service. The quality of the yarn and the method of weaving are both important.

Either single-ply or double-ply yarns are used in towel backgrounds. The single yarn is a thread made by twisting one strand of fibers. The double-ply or two-strand yarn is made by twisting or spinning together two single yarns.

Double-ply yarns are twice as strong as the single, depending on the size of the strand used, and the amount of twist in the spinning. However, Mrs. Lerche says, the more twists there are to make the yarn stronger, the less water it will absorb, regardless of the size of the yarn.

Acalanes C.S.F. Tours Stanford

Eighty-nine Acalanes students, members of the Don chapter of the California Scholarship Federation, visited Stanford University to review university requirements and facilities.

Each year the Acalanes C.S.F. makes a trip to a college or university in the Bay Area.

C.S.F. membership is limited to those students with a minimum grade average of three A's and one B for a semester.

This morning Dr. Rixford K. Snyder of Stanford, Director of Admissions, spoke to a general group of 30 seniors at Acalanes on the requirements and facilities on the Indian Farm.

During the course of the year many representatives of different colleges visit the high school informing students of their colleges' programs. A complete file of college and university catalogs also is maintained by the Acalanes counseling department to assist students in selecting a college.

If you love children — yours and your neighbors' — slow down when you drive home today.

JC Gives Course On Effects of Atomic Weapons

Law enforcement officers, scientists and doctors are joining forces to explain to county residents the effects of atomic weapons and the importance of civilian preparedness for atomic attack in a six-lecture non-technical course offered by Contra Costa Junior College West Campus in Richmond, according to John H. Porterfield, director.

First lecture was Monday evening at the Richmond Campus. The remaining sessions will meet on successive Tuesdays, starting next Tuesday.

Monday night's speaker was Dr. G. A. Pettit, assistant to the president of the University of California. He discussed the character of nuclear energy.

Subsequent speakers include Otto Barrett, junior college physicist; Dr. Hardin Jones, a member of the Atomic Energy Commission and the Office of Scientific Rereearch and Development; Dora Bowen Hunnicutt, junior college political scientist, and James Long, Contra Costa county sheriff.

Classes meet from 7:30 to 9:00; there is no tuition charge.

Army Extenion Course Skidding Dangers

Approximately 5,200 officers and enlisted men of the California National Guard are enrolled in the Army extension course program, Major General C. D. O'Sullivan, the adjutant general announced. This figure includes approximately 1500 officers and 3700 enlisted men.

Figures released recently by the National Guard Bureau indicate that the California Guardsmen have the greatest enrollment in the 10 series of any state, with fourteen percent of the nation's total. The National Guard Bureau also pointed out that California has ninety-seven percent of its allotted officer requirement, far above the national average.

Acalanes Report Cards Out Tuesday

Report cards for the first quarter will be distributed at Acalanes Union High School Tuesday. This quarter officially ended last Friday.

With the start of the second quarter several new seventh period activities were added to the school program, according to Lee Russell of the Acalanes counseling department. Classes have been started in camping and wild life study and creative writing.

Seventh period activities held at the end of each school day provide facilities for each student to develop their individual interests. Twenty seven activity classes are offered along with several special study classes for those who need help in English or language. A student may remain in any activity of his choice for one or more school quarters.

BET YOUR LIFE

You bet your life when you drive your car at night without proper lights — both front and rear — the California Highway Patrol told motorists today.

Traffic hazards greatly increase with the lengthening hours of darkness, it was pointed out. Vehicles with blinding, improperly adjusted headlights or "one-eyed" cars are menaces on the road and can easily lead to a fatal accident.

Is a large company "good" for the community?
...meet Henry Bertholas and friends for the answer!

Our main job is to see that you have all the gas and electricity you need at the lowest possible rate. You can judge how efficiently we do that job by two facts: the rates you pay are among the lowest in the nation—and plentiful reserves have already been provided by our record-breaking postwar expansion program, with even more facilities being built.

But every business has additional responsibilities: to the communities where it operates, and to their citizens. We now introduce you to six of our neighbors in Shasta County. On the basis of what P. G. and E. means to them and their communities, we think you can judge what it means to you and your community.

P·G·and·E·
PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY

Henry Bertholas, Fall River Mills, started over 40 years ago digging gas mains for one of our predecessor companies. Today he's manager of the Pit River District. Like many another of P. G. and E.'s 16,500 employees, Henry has found time to serve his community—for several terms as school trustee; and as fire commissioner. To his neighbors in Shasta County, Henry Bertholas is P. G. and E.!

Harry Horr, of Glenburn, rancher and sawmill operator in the northern country for 50 years. Mr. Horr once said: "When P. G. and E. and its predecessor companies came into Shasta County 64 years ago, it helped put a lot of local folks in business, and we're still benefiting by it—just as are the folks who get their power at low rates."

This is Frank Linebeck, Superintendent of Elementary Schools, Anderson District. Few of Shasta County's leaders know better than he how valuable a citizen and neighbor is P. G. and E. For the company pays nearly half of all school taxes that support Shasta County's fine schools.

Meet Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Baima, of Redding. Along with more than 169,000 other P. G. and E. stockholders, they have invested a portion of their savings in our stock. Not only does this investment pay them a return, but helps finance P. G. and E.'s widespread expansion program to assure you a continuing, adequate supply of low-cost gas and electricity.

Here's W. N. Hogg, owner of his own Variety Store in Anderson. To merchants and businessmen, as well as the folks who work in Shasta County, P. G. and E.'s investment of $68,000,000 in property, and annual payrolls of $1,668,000—have meant better business, a more prosperous community in which to live.

Scout, Cub Leaders Hold Roundtable Discussion on Past, Future Events

Fifty Boy Scout and Cub Scout leaders of the Diablo District were present at a leaders roundtable meeting Monday evening at Acalanes high school for the purpose of "clearing the decks" on future District and Unit program activities.

District Commissioner Ian McLaughlin was in general charge. Assistant District Commissioner R. W. Sweetland was chairman of the Cub Scouting section.

REVIEW ACTIVITIES

A review of recent scouting activities was heard. Among the new Council and District activities announced and discussed were:

A training course for den mothers to start in Walnut Creek shortly. A spring training conference to take place at Camp Herms in March presenting instruction in all phases of Scouting leadership.

The second annual Cub Scout Handicraft Exhibit and Boy Scout Merit Badge Show will take place during Boy Scout Week on February 10 in Acalanes gymnasium.

The council's annual meeting and dinner will be held December 9 at Hotel Claremont. A District potluck is being planned for this month.

CAMP PROGRESS REPORT

A progress report upon the enlargement of the snow camp, Camp Judge Bray near Pinecrest, was given. A winter camp work party is scheduled for this Armistice Day week-end.

No Wonder Scouts Like Camp Herms!

The annual report of Camp Herms, one of four scout camps maintained by the Boy Scout Council of this area, shows a remarkable gain since the expanded program was launched last October.

Overnight attendance is four times that of the previous year. Scouts have earned 292 merit badges and 2,225 second and first class ranks during the year.

Camp Herms is located in the top of the El Cerrito hills and is accessible from the Diablo area via the Wildcat Canyon Road from Orinda. It is one of four camps available to Diablo Area Boy Scouts and is maintained by annual council finance campaigns.

A regular staff directed by Les Simonson is available each weekend to help troops with their advancement and camping program. The facilities include an archery range, observatory, nature lodge, handicraft shop, commissary where camping and craft supplies may be obtained, cabins and a lodge for Courts of Honor and parties.

Nature hikes, Saturday night campfire and church services are a regular part of the weekend schedule.

Scouts may receive help in the following merit badges: zoology, bird study, pioneering, camping, cooking, metal work, leathercraft, conservation, forestry, botany, rocks and minerals, astronomy, reptile study and wood carving.

Scouts may use the weekend facilities without their own adult leadership, but applications for use of cabins, baseball field and main lodge must be sent in advance to Irving Waterbury, resident director.

Mail-Early Story Being Broadcast

The Post Office Department again this year is making a special effort to move Christmas mails early.

The department reminds postal patrons that next Wednesday, November 15, is the deadline for mailing all packages destined for overseas delivery, but the department urges that such parcels should be sent as soon as possible.

In order to carry the mail-early story to the public, the Post Office Department is presenting a series of four radio programs over the Mutual Broadcasting System network.

Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson appeared on the first broadcast known as "Washington Report" that originated from the nation's capital last Sunday afternoon. This first presentation was "American Ships Carry the Mail."

Other programs, all dramatic documentaries, in the series are scheduled for November 19, "American Railroads Carry the Mail;" December 3, "United States Airlines Carry the Mail," and the final show on December 17, "Uncle Sam Delivers the Mail."

All of these shows are scheduled to appear on "Washington Report."

Duty to Country? Rev. Berven Will Discuss Question

County Principals to Meet Thursday

Walter Gordon of Berkeley, chairman of the California Adult Authority and nationally known social worker, will address Contra Costa County Principals' Association next Thursday at Acalanes Union High School.

Gordon, who will explain the functions of the California Adult Authority, will speak at 7 o'clock, following dinner at 6 p.m., announces Vice-President John Moiso of Pleasant Hill, program chairman.

Section meetings of elementary and high school principals at 4:45 p.m. will be combined in order to hear a panel discussion of the teaching of reading in all grades from primary through junior colleges.

Among the panel participants will be teachers and Dr. Fred J. Kiesel, assistant superintendent of Mt. Diablo Unified District, who will represent the administrative point of view.

One of the sub-topics will be a consideration of the recent Life magazine article on education.

The panel discussion is being arranged by the Contra Costa County English Committee, an organization of English teachers of which Mrs. Anne Lynde of Antioch High School is chairman.

At their business meeting following dinner, the principals will elect 1951 officers. Mrs. Clotilda O. Betzer of Concord will preside.

'Golden Age' Combines Fun, Thought

"The Golden Age and how to get there!"

Signposts and directions can be found within a game of that name, just off the press. Those familiar with it say the game is colorful and hilarious, yet at the same time thought-provoking and educational. The big idea underlying its gay facade is that of One World, resulting from world law under a strengthened United Nations.

Briefly, the game is a life-and-death race between the "villain"—armed with an atom bomb—and the other players, teamed up to outsmart the villain and achieve One World.

Architect Sewall Smith of Lafayette, inventor of the game, has a collection of enthusiastic comments from many walks of life. He says that atomic scientists of note, prominent educators, young people's groups and others have expressed the keenest interest.

Of his collection of letters, Smith is perhaps proudest of the following from an official of the Atomic Energy Commission: "A game such as this is a splendid means of bringing world focus on problems of atomic energy. It brings out vividly the two opposite ways that this great power can be used. It is also real fun; I'm all for it."

The original game, known as "One World or Bust," was concocted by Smith one Christmas morning.

The Golden Age is entirely a non-profit venture. Smith and his wife Mary, who he says was of tremendous help to him in his hobby activity, have pledged themselves to use any profits from it as donations to organizations working for world peace.

The refreshment tables were laden with open face finger sandwiches, brandied fruit cakes, spice cookies, nuts and candies. Mrs. A. E. Bennett and Mrs. Spencer C. Britton poured coffee from antique sliver service. Autumn flowers and candles completed the decorations and ranged from bronze to ginger and maize.

Episcopal Holy Communion To Be 11 A.M. Sunday

Holy Communion will be given at the regular 11 a.m. Orinda Episcopal Church service to be held at the Scout Hut, Orinda Park Pool property, on Sunday.

Because of lack of space no regular Sunday School classes are planned at present, but Rev. John Geene will incorporate in the services some particular portion for the young people. Young Episcopalians of Orinda are urged to attend.

A Bishop's committee has been formed to work with Bishop Block and Rev. Geene on organization of the newly inaugurated Orinda Episcopal Church.

EBMUD Appoints Kennedy Engineer

Appointment of Robert C. Kennedy to the position of chief engineer of the East Bay Municipal Utility District has been announced by John W. McFarland, general manager.

In his new responsibility, Kennedy will coordinate and be responsible for the engineering functions of the utility district and will continue to supervise the design and construction of the Sewage Disposal Project until its completion next year.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

The subject of the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon for Sunday, November 12, will be "Mortals and Immortals," with the Golden Text a verse from First orinthians: "As is the earthly, such are they also that are earthy: and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly" (15:48).

Citations comprising the sermon will include the following:

The Bible: "Charity never faileth: but whether there be prophecies, they shall fail; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away. For we know in part, and we prophesy in part. But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part shall be done away" (I Corinthians 13:8-10).

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Love never loses sight of loveliness. Its halo rests upon its object. One marvels that a friend can ever seem less than beautiful. Men and women of riper years and larger lessons ought to ripen into health and immortality, instead of lapsing into darkness or gloom" (p. 248).

In our neighborhoods, please drive carefully. How fast can you stop if a child runs into the street in front of your car?

Sermon to Dwell On Help by God

Have you ever asked the question, where was God and his power when the present war broke out?

Using the letter of Paul to the Colossians, the first chapter and verses 9-19, as a scriptural background, the sermon at Lafayette Community Methodist Church Sunday will seek to point out how God helps us.

The service of worship will begin at 11 a.m. Church School is held at 9:45, and there are classes for all ages, including college age and adults.

The pastors are available at any time. They are Bishop George A. Miller and Rev. Harry E. Shaner. Church phone is Lafayette 4765.

CONTRACTORS MEET

Richard W. Briggs, who recently became district director of the FHA, addressed the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County at Planters Dock last week.

County Schools' Growth Exceeds California Rate

Contra Costa County schools continue to grow at a more rapid rate than California in general, a table prepared by the State Department of Education discloses.

During the school year 1949-50 the average daily attendance in Contra Costa County increased 7.03 percent over that of 1948-49. The total state increase over the previous year was 6.27.

Contra Costa County was credited with an average daily attendance of 55,056, of which 42,934 was elementary, 11,892 high school and 230 junior college. Still higher attendance is anticipated in 1950-51 according to County Superintendent B. O. Wilson.

PREPAREDNESS

Keep alert for trouble-in-the-making when you drive, urges the California State Automobile Association. If you are prepared for mistakes in judgment on the part of other drivers or pedestrians you may forestall an accident.

Diamond K Sez . . .

JUDGING FROM THE TURN OUT last week end it is evident that a great number of you took our advice and advantage of the break in the weather to do something about the drainage problems around home.

Drain tile was sold in large quantities but we still have plenty on hand. Of course, our driveway estimater was swamped but is ready and willing to come over and consult with you on your "Sloppy Driveway" problems.

By the way, we do not install driveways. We simply furnish materials for you so that you can do them yourselves at a minimum of cost and effort.

THIS IS ALSO a good time to start thinking about garden tractors. We are now the agency for the new ROTARY HOE, which is an English made version of the Rototiller. It is complete with an 11 horse power, 4 cycle engine. It is absolutely fool proof in weeds.

We are arranging to have a factory representative come to Lafayette to give a demonstration and would appreciate hearing from those of you who might be interested in seeing this.

THAT'S ALL for this week except to remember that for your garden and building needs, Diamond K is the convenient place to shop.

Plan Food Handling, Sanitation Course

Tentative plans for a course in "Food Handling and Sanitation" were discussed reecntly by an advisory committee meeting at the County Health Department in Martinez. The course will be designed for all food handlers in commercial establishments in Contra Costa County.

The meeting was conducted jointly by the Health Department and the Contra Costa Junior College. Dr. Henry Blum, Director of the County Health Department, explained the need of such a course to committee members. Leland Medsker, Director of the East Campus, said that the junior college wants to cooperate in bringing this valuable educational service to the citizens of the county.

The committee recommended that plans for the course be drawn up immediately and that the time and place of classes be decided at a meeting to be held in the near future.

Among members of the advisory committee in attendance were Richard Bliesner, Lafayette, and Milton Nelson, Orinda.

COMMITTEE MEETS

School Districts To Be Studied

Possible reorganization of school districts in Contra Costa County as a means of assisting schools whose financial assets are not sufficient to support their growing enrollment will be explored in the coming months by the Contra Costa County School District Organization Committee.

Chairman O. J. Wohlgemuth of Walnut Creek stated that the committee has renewed its efforts toward reaching a solution to school problems resulting from "accidents of district boundaries and assessed valuation."

Committee members held their first 1950-51 meeting October 20 in Superintendent B. O. Wilson's office and heard him give a resume of reorganization possibilities throughout the county. Verne Hall of the State Department of Education, who met with the committee, reviewed the department's policies and touched on reorganization activities in Northern California.

Dependents May Expect Checks in December

Wives and other dependents of enlisted men in the armed forces are reminded by J. W. Hammond, County Veterans Service Officer, that they should not expect direct Government checks for family allowance until some time in December.

The Federal Government has actually been making payments of the family allotments since August, he said, but the payments have been made to the serviceman, not direct to his family. This procedure will be followed through the October payment, which is made in November.

Chief Peakes, Wife Back From 1700-Mile Trip

Lafayette Fire Chief and Mrs. Shirley Peakes returned recently from a 1,700-mile vacation trip.

The journey took them through Death Valley, to Las Vegas, on a sight-seeing tour of Hoover Dam, and then to Blythe and Indio, where they inspected one of the huge date farms for which the area is noted.

Palm Springs, Palm Beach and Santa Barbara were on the homeward-bound itinerary. Disappointingly, rain was falling when the couple reached Santa Barbara, so they decided not to prolong their stay but came on home to Lafayette.

The chief said daytime temperatures ranged around 85 degrees in the desert area, but night times were quite cool.

Since this was the first trip to this area the Peakes had ever made, they thoroughly enjoyed their travels.

Glen Taylor Art Classes Underway

The Saturday Morning Art Classes at Glen Taylor School (a parents' non-profit organipation) in Walnut Creek are well underway. Classes are still open for enrollment.

The plan for the Saturday morning activity includes boys and girls who are interested in a variety of art forms without necessarily being "talented" artists. The school stresses in all its teaching "full development of children's creative and emotional capacity."

Two Walnut Pests Yield to Control

Control of codling moth and walnut aphid, the principal pests of California's 110,000 acres of walnuts, has resulted from research by the University of California College of Agriculture.

A. E. Michelbacher, associate entomologist, and W. W. Middlekauff, assistant entomologist, of the Experiment Station, are in charge of the project.

There are two broods of the codling moth which must be controlled. This can be done with a single spray containing standard lead arsenate, applied before the first brood of caterpillars begins to enter the nuts. This practice is not recommended south of the Santa Clara valley because of burning.

DDT USED

DDT is effective against codling moth, but serious increases of other pests, such as walnut aphid, frosted scale and orchard mite frequently result. Increases in aphid population can be avoided by using DDT combined with an aphicide, and the danger of increasing populations of frosted scale or orchard mite can be nearly eliminated by reducing the DDT dosage in the spray to one-half pound per acre.

In addition, codling moth spray programs have been developed using DDT alone or in combination with standard lead arsenate.

WALNUT APHID

Control of walnut aphid can be obtained by using one of the following aphicides combined with codling moth spray: Nicotine, tetraethyl pyrophosphate, and parathion. (Benzene hexachloride may also be use, but only once per season.) Effective control has resulted where aphicides have been applied as concentrated sprays with speed type sprayers.

Complete spraying recommendations for Contra Costa County are available through farm advisor Milton R. Bell, Agricultural Extension Service, Cowell, Calif.

Want Those Shade Trees at Your Home To Thrive? Heed These Simple Rules!

By BERT WRIGHT

WHEN BUILDING a new home it often is necessary to change grade levels, either adding or taking away soil to establish the slope desired.

Extraordinary care should be used in making such fills or taking away soil because of possible injury to established trees on the building site.

The National Shade Tree Conference has issued the following guiding information in this regard:

OAK, MAPLE, birch, hickory and hemlock are very susceptible to either type of grade injury (filled with earth or taking earth away from the covering on the roots). Trees least susceptible to this injury are elm, poplar, willow, plane, ailanthus and locust.

The amount of top soil that can be removed without injury was given as four inches per young tree, six inches for medium aged trees and eight inches for old trees.

The amounts of fill or soil added that can be made without injury are: young trees, six inches; medium age, seven inches; old trees, eight inches. For a 12-inch tree 16 inches of gravel, 10 inches of sand or six inches of soil can be added without taking precautions to provide unofficial aeration.

AMONG TREES that are "smoke eaters," i.e., tolerant of city conditions, are the following:

Oriental plane tree, sycamore, Norway maple, American elm, pin oak, sweetgug, European linden and honey locust.

FEEDING SHADE trees is too often neglected by most gardeners.

The average lawn is fertilized primarily for the development of the grass. The plant food is near the surface and tree roots tend to develop just under the sod, with an insecure hold upon the soil.

Furthermore, trees with shallow roots suffer more from drought.

IT WAS NOTED after the famous 1938 New England hurricane that trees which had been fed by punching two foot holes in the soil and partially filling with plant food resisted the wind much more successfully than those in the average lawn. Their roots penetrated the soil to a greater depth.

SO EARLY next spring give your shade trees a thorough feeding.

It is not only good for appearance's sake but also is good windstorm insurance.

Dramateurs Improve with 2nd Night's Performance of 'Guest in the House'

Some technical difficulty combined with unsure acting of "first night" presentation made Orinda Dramateurs' "Guest in the House" a rather slow moving vehicle last Friday in its initial production at Acalanes High School gymnasium.

More sureness on the part of the cast was evidenced in the second and final night of the play on Saturday, with actors, story, scenery and direction combining in a much more smoothly presented showing of the Hagar Wilde-Dale Eunson play.

Costumes and stage setting received the unreserved plaudits of those who attended the staging of the three-act drama.

The "guest in the house" was a most unpleasant young lady (in the story) who managed to hoodwink her very nice cousin, her cousin's artist husband and their young, impressionable daughter.

The "guest" moved into their residence, a supposedly hopless, ill "poor dear," and completely disrupted their happy home until finally common sense came to the fore and the family decided they would rather get along without her company, and did.

Edward O'Brien directed "Guest in the House."

Bobcat Pins, Indian Dances Mark Meeting of Orinda Cub Pack 32

Orinda Cub Pack 32 met the following new cubs and their parents at the pack meeting last Friday night: Randy Jamison, Dennis Spittler, Alan Geisler and Robert Abe. The boys will become Bobcats at the next pack meeting.

New Bobcats were also introduced and given their membership cards. As an innovation, the new Bobcat pins for the boys were presented to their parents, who were asked to give them to their sons upon completion of their first good deed.

WIN AWARDS

Den 8 won the inspection award, Den 6 the Antless Pants honor and Den 10 the attendance award for the meeting.

It was pointed out that the attendance award is based upon the number of parents as well as cubs who attended the pack session.

INDIAN DANCES

Fifteen boys between the ages of seven and 11 presented a program of authentic Indian ceremonial dances in costumes they had made themselves. The visiting group, members of the Columbia Park Boys Club of San Francisco, were in charge of Mr. Hargrove, a club official.

DEN ACTIVITIES

Future plans for Pack 32 include the hope that they will be able to present a program for the San Francisco group later on.

Den activities include the following programs:

Den 1, which has been meeting at the home of Mrs. R. Rasmussen, den mother for October, has been making Indian beadwork, headdresses and leather belts. The boys reported they had been rained out of their tepee headquarters in the yard and were holding their sessions indoors for a while. Mrs. Jack Moylan is den mother for November.

Den 4 has been making Indian boxes with decal decorations, has been reading Indian stories, and learned an Indian song which they sang for the pack. Den members are busy gathering articles for some poor family's Christmas as one of their projects. Mrs. James Lucas is den mother.

MAKING TO-TOMS

Den 6, which has been meeting at the home of Mrs. Thomas Bacon, is making leather comb cases, coin purses and Indian tom-toms. Mrs. R. H. Phelps is den mother, with Mrs. W. Kline assisting.

Den 7, with Mrs. W. H. Thurston as den mother, made a recent field trip to the Oakland Public Muscum to see the Indian exhibit. The boys are working on Indian drums as their project. Mrs. Norma Coates and Mrs. Norma Bailey have been assisting with their activities.

FOREVER BLOWING balloons is what many happy Orinda youngsters enthusiastically felt they were doing at last week's festive Hallowe'en party put on for the kids by the Orinda Lions Club. The juvenile jackpot of merriment took place at the Orinda Theater, which was packed with children. Not blowing a balloon but apparently very pleased is Joe Navone, at rear left. —SUN photo by Mattson

All Aboard That Kids' Birthday Train!

Here we go aboard the kids' birthday special!

MARY DAVIS

Mary Davis celebrated her sixth birthday last Saturday with a few of her friends. The party was from 2:30 until 5 and those joining her were Linda Harden, Toni Brothers and Cornelia Telford.

PETER CLOUGH

Peter Clough will always remember his ninth birthday, for he received a Dalmatian puppy of which he is justly proud. He also had a party last Sunday and took a few friends to the show.

RODDY CAMP

Roddy Camp was 10 years old on Thursday, November 2. He entertained, for supper and games from 5 to 7 p.m., the following friends:

Peter Telfer, Clay Sorrick, Peter Lamb, Jody Gompertz, Philip Branch, Bill Klement, Julia Allen, Bobby Shurtleff and Cathy Shurtleff.

LINDA VAN SICKLE

Linda Van Sickle think it a fine week for birthdays; hers was Sunday; her mother and grandmother share a birthday on the 6th, and an uncle has one on the 9th.

So for her sixth birthday Linda invited her friends, grandmothers, aunts and uncles and they all had a bang-up time together. There were jacks and ball favors for the girls, and miniature baseballs for the boys.

Those joining in the fun were Linda Bargones, Holly Borden, Marian Collett, Jeanie Abe, Virginia Thair, Carlynn Ramsay, Christie Ramsay, Susan Hogan, Sandra Tararino, Eleanor Brand, Tony Rodgers, Steve Miller, Stanley Duncan, Bill Schwarck, Greg DeWitt, Barton Van Sickle, John Lutz, John Hastie, Bill Brand and Bobby Hogan.

Horse Threw Him But Bennett Now Is Back on Job

The many friends of George Bennett of Camino Sobrante are congratulating him on his recovery from his recent accident.

George and his wife were visiting old friends at their ranch at Paso Robles when they decided to attend a local rodeo there and ride in the parade.

Bennett's horse became nervous for some reason, reared, lost her balance and threw him, cracking some of his ribs and vertebrae.

Now, surprisingly, he is able to resume his work but is generally taking things easy for a while.

Altar Society Plans Food Sale

The ladies of the Santa Maria Altar Society are planning a gigantic sale of taste-tempting delights at the Orinda Hardware November 18.

Mrs. Robert Boyle and Mrs. Joseph Ortland are heading this affair. The proceeds of the sale will be contributed to the building fund of the Santa Maria Church.

Fluffy cakes, crispy pies, baked dishes — yes, even expertly made enchilladas and Pizza are certain to be main attractions at the Orinda Hardware.

STORK CLUB....

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Murphy of El Toyonal are very proud of their new 5 pound 14 ounce granddaughter who was born at Alta Bates Hospital last Sunday. The newcomer's mother is the Murphy's daughter, Mrs. James Linn of Willows.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin R. Shirey of Los Angeles announce the arrival of a daughter, Barbara, born November 3.

This is the second grandchild for the Challiss Gores of Orinda. Mrs. Gore and Mrs. Ollie Gerber are in Los Angeles for a two weeks' letting-acquainted visit with little Barbara.

Two Services at Church on Sunday

Two services will be held Sunday at Orinda Community Church. In addition to the usual morning worship the Diaconate of the church is sponsoring a Preaching Mission with Rev. Godfrey Matthews of San Francisco in the pulpit.

At 8 Sunday evening he will continue a series begun last week on "Toward a Portrait of Chirst." Special music will feature the Richard family of Orinda, Ed and Betty, whose repertoire includes the violin, cello and vocal.

As organist Louis R. Flint, veteran of many Bay Area consoles, will lead congregational singing and play music incidental to the service.

At 11 a.m. Rev. Fred Morrow, minister of the church, will conduct worship and speak on the theme "Christianity is Expensive." Margaret Popovich directs the mixed chorus, with Virginia Baker at the organ.

Sunday school sessions are held at 9:30, and the Pilgrim Fellowship is scheduled to meet at 7 o'clock Sunday evening.

Freighter Trip Told Seafarers

The Seafarers cruised week before last to the hospitable port of the Walter Nicklases. Forty or more members and guests sat about the long tables covered with Hallowe'en cloths for a delicious potluck dinner.

High point of the program was a talk by Mrs. Ben Dykes on her recent trip on a freighter around the world, starting at San Francisco and returning to New York.

She told of the people of the Orient, their appearance and customs, their homes and shops and the beauty or lack of it of their countries.

Mr. Dykes projected colored slides illustrating her talk. The talk and pictures ended with scenes in Italy featuring an audience with the Pope.

Following the talk, Mrs. Dykes displayed the beautiful textiles they had brought back with them—jeweled silver costume jewelry and heads carved in hard wood, the finest coming from Indo-China

Best Wishes to Episcopal Church

This week we say, "Hats off to Orinda's new Episcopal Church and to those Orindans who are working so diligently for it."

It's no easy task to organze a new church. The problems are many; the obstacles are great. But to this group of Orindans the reward of forming their own church is equally great.

Services have been conducted at the Scout Hut at the Park Pool since October 15 by the Rev. John Greene. And plans are being developed to purchase land for a new building.

We join the community in best wishes to the Orinda Episcopal Church.

Rotary Hears Talk on Arabian Oil Development

Orinda Rotary had a full schedule Wednesday of last week with the regular meeting at noon and a combined assembly and board of directors session in the evening.

Bert Cullen of the public relations department of Standard Oil Company presented a sound and color film of the Arabian-American Oil Company venture in Saudi Arabia, at the noon session.

Economic conditions in that area before Aramco began development of the oil resources were pictured, as was the contrast in development of the country and improvement in the lives of its people after this great industry was started.

Bahrein Islands in the Persian Gulf were described as the first oil development project in that sector, the Arabian government later granting further oil concessions all through Arabia. Oil land now under development in that country encompasses more square miles than the combined area of California and Texas.

Plans for programs and activities of the coming year were discussed at the evening meeting, including arrangements for the giant Christmas party to be given for all Orinda children.

Fred Morrow, minister of Orinda Community Church, was appointed secretary to fill the unexpired term of Vic Beauchamp, who has left to take a position with an Oakland firm.

George Richards, George Eberhard and Dr. Philip Konigsberg were indoctrinated as new members this week. Paul Pease, membership committee chairman, officiated at the induction of the three men, whose names were approved at the assembly, according to Wayne Seroy, publicity chairman.

Children's books, the popular Quizmo's, latest adult fiction and non-fiction are all available. Here is a splendid opportunity to do your Christmas shopping early and help your children through the school libraries as well.

There is still time for advance orders for any books you are specially interested in. Call Mrs. Robert Anthonisen, Orinda 6351, for ordering.

Books will be on sale during school hours every day of the week. They will also be available for your inspection and on sale both nights of the potluck suppers—Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

Place will be the Orinda School Library.

Kids Asked for Book Donations

During National Book Week children of the Orinda and Glorietta Schools are requested to bring a good book to donate to their school library.

Each book will be inscribed with the name of the child presenting it. This will aid in building up the school libraries.

A busy group of mothers, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Robert Harrison, is fixing up the libraries and re-cataloging the books. The libraries have been used as classrooms, but are now free again.

The libraries will be open every day from 9 until 12, with mothers to supervise and help the children. The children will be able to use the library to study in and to take out books for supplementary study and for pleasure reading.

Guild Section Meets Wednesday

Section 2 of the Women's Guild will have its next meeting at Orinda Community Church next Wednesday.

A dessert will be served at noon. After a brief business meeting and election of officers, the afternoon will be spent in making pajamas for patients at Weimar Sanitorium near Colfax.

Orinda women are invited to bring their scissors and thimble and help cut out and sew, for helpers are needed. Superintending this work will be Mrs. Ida Zamloch.

Mrs. Andy Blalock will be in charge of the dessert.

Because there will be so much sewing to do, all are asked to come to the Church at 10:30, bringing a sandwich as usual.
